

We offer a simple to use, reliable laboratory testing service for the parasite control of horses, poultry, sheep, cattle and other grazing animals. We will customise and supply bespoke paperwork with your logo and contact details for each classification of animal as well as an advice leaflet to accompany equine and poultry tests that you can pass on to your clients explaining how best to use worm egg counts in their parasite control programme.

You (or your clients) return samples to the lab in prepaid envelopes via Royal Mail. Simply pop them in your nearest post box. We test each sample on the day they arrive in our purpose built laboratory. Results are returned to you by e-mail the same day enabling you to deliver a swift customer consultation and prescribe any necessary treatments. We invoice monthly in arrears for tests carried out for you.

Alternatively we can also offer a relief system as a backup for those busy times. Many of our vets manage the smaller numbers of samples in-house, preferring only to outsource bigger yards to our specialist laboratory. This is fine too and we can send you a supply of pots and envelopes to keep in stock for these occasions!
